

USE OF DIALKYL POLYSULFIDES FOR MASTICATION OF NATURAL AND SYNTHETIC RUBBERS

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention relates to the invention of a masticating agent for the mastication of natural and synthetic rubbers, wherein the masticating agent is a dialkyl polysulfide, which is toxicologically acceptable and has very good masticating properties.